

Beggars Breakfast

From the album International Daylight (2003)

I've been around with people everywhere.
Some of them will listen, some don't care.
Went through a lot of changes in my personal point of view.
I realize they all came to me, to make the inner me renew.

Look at all these different creatures on the stairs.
I know them all by name, can tell you their tragic love affairs.
Some of them will party until late.
Some have beggars breakfast on their plate.

